INSURGENT GENERAL REFUSES TO SURRENDER SARAGOSSA

AUTONOMY MOVE?

KWANGSI'S DEFIANCE OF NANKING

Sustained Challenge
Possible

NORTHERN FORCES READY TO MOVE INSTANTLY

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.

Declining to accept membership of the Military Affairs Commission and the chairmanship of the Chekiang Provincial Government respectively, Generals Li Chung-jen and Pei Hsiung-hsi are reported to have defied the Central Authorities in order to maintain their hold in Kwangsi.

Three lines of defences are set up in Kwangsi, bordering on Hunan and Kweichow. The vanguard of the Kwangsi troops have penetrated near Ning Ling, Southern Hunan, as they are supposed to be carrying out an anti-Japanese expedition.

It is rumoured that an autonomous Government will be established in Kwangsi with the help of a certain foreign country, along lines similar to those of the so-called East Hopei Autonomous Regime. Another report states that the Kwangsi militarists have allied with certain reactionary Kwangtung troops along the West River.

Kwangsi claims to have 150,000 regular troops and militia, and may put up a sustained challenge to the Central Authorities.

Nanking troops in Hunan and Kweichow have been ordered to march into Kwangsi at a moment's notice, while the loyal Kwangtung forces have been instructed to guard the western borders against a Kwangsi invasion.

FIRE DISASTER AT MASSAWA

Whole Town Said To
Ablaze

Rome, To-day.

Official circles admit the blaze at Massawa, but state that the extent of the disaster is exaggerated. — Reuter.

An earlier message said that travellers from Massawa stated that the town was aflame, with petrol tanks ablaze. The flames were spreading to the magazine and the aeroplanes, of which 50 were said to have been destroyed. Hundreds were dead.

R.A.F. PLANES IN ACTION AGAINST ARABS

90-MINUTE ENGAGEMENT IN JUDEAN HILLS

Jerusalem, To-day.

At least 10 Arabs have been killed in an engagement with British troops in the Judean hills, arising from the ambushing by Arabs of an omnibus convoy proceeding to Tel Aviv.

Two more Arabs were killed by bombs dropped by Royal Air Force planes, which flew to the scene of the engagement, lasting 90 minutes. Troops thereafter cordoned the hills and began rounding up the remainder of the Arab gang. — Reuter.

BLUE RIBBAND OF ATLANTIC WITHIN GRASP OF R.M.S. QUEEN MARY

New York, To-day.—The record apparently within her grasp, the Queen Mary passed Nantucket at 5 p.m. yesterday and should have reached Ambrose Light at 11.25 p.m., over two hours inside the Normandie's record time.

A steamer from Ermont picked up nine passengers of a seaplane which crashed at sea near Nantucket, going to meet the Queen Mary. One man was dead and another is dying.

Later: The seaplane was occupied by journalists and press photographers from Boston. Physicians aboard the Queen Mary are advising by wireless the crew of the Ermont about the treatment of a serious case among the survivors. — Reuter.

CAR ACCIDENT IN GERMANY

20 Killed When Driver
Loses Control

Berlin, To-day.

One of the most serious road accidents in Germany for years occurred yesterday at Freudenscheidt. Sixty-three Storm Troopers were making an excursion in the Black Forest in a huge motor-vehicle with a trailer.

The driver lost control on a steep hill and the vehicles crashed over a steep embankment, somersaulting twice. Twenty men were killed and many injured. — Reuter.

One of the great attractions of the Deutschland Exhibition in Berlin will be a relief map of the Reich, which will give a plastic impression of the whole German countryside, and especially a clear conception of the new motor roads. — Trans-Ocean Service.

HIS MAJESTY RETURNS TO LONDON

London, To-day.
His Majesty the King returned from France by air and landed at Hendon at 8.40 p.m. yesterday. He then motored to Buckingham Palace. — Reuter.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT VIMY RIDGE

Great Ovation For King Edward

CANADIAN WAR MEMORIAL
UNVEILED

Vimy Ridge, To-day.

H. M. the King set foot in France for the first time as monarch when he landed at Calais yesterday morning and proceeded to Vimy Ridge, where he unveiled the Canadian war memorial. His Majesty was wearing a dark grey morning suit and his medals, and was tremendously cheered when he appeared on the terrace of the monument by a crowd of 200,000 people, while planes droned overhead.

The King made his opening speech in French and then continued in English. He emphasised that the monument was not on alien soil, for a French law had decreed that the hill would be for ever part of Canada. President Lebrun and others spoke, and a message from Mr. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, transmitted by trans-Atlantic telephone and amplified, was heard as clearly as if the speaker were present. Brilliant sunshine prevailed throughout the impressive ceremony. — Reuter.

POLICEMAN SHOT

CENTRAL STATION
INCIDENT

SIKH CONSTABLES INVOLVED

Excitement reigned at the Central Police Station yesterday afternoon when an Indian constable, Sahib Singh, was fatally shot by another constable, Bhag Singh, on the verandah of the Indian quarters at the station.

According to the Police report about 5 p.m. yesterday Bhag Singh returned to barracks. He was dressed in mufti and had been out in the afternoon. When he returned there were a number of Indian constables squatting and talking on the verandah. He went to his room, returned a few minutes later armed with a service rifle, and fired several shots. The other Indians thereupon scattered but one, P.C. B.255, Sahib Singh, was shot and collapsed on the verandah. During the shooting P.C. B.255, who was in bed in an adjoining barrack room, came from behind and seized the constable and held him till assistance arrived, when he was disarmed.

The victim was removed to the Government Civil Hospital immediately, but died before arrival. The motive for the shooting is at present unknown, and the constable will be formally charged at the Central Magistracy to-morrow morning.

ALLEGED USE OF FORGED DOCUMENT

Wong Kan-sun, an unemployed shoemaker, was this morning charged before Mr. C. B. Burgess at the Central Magistracy with obtaining $7,000 from the Wing Hing Hong Firm by means of a forged document. Detective-Sergeant C. Byron asked for a remand of 48 hours, which was granted.

FUGITIVES FROM BADAJOS TELL OF FRIGHTFUL ATROCITIES

TRAGIC BURSTING OF TYRE CAUSES SHOOTING
OF BRITON IN HOLD-UP IN BARCELONA

Madrid, To-day.

A Government broadcast yesterday announced that seaplanes from Barcelona bombed Palma, Majorca. Several rebel chiefs attempting to escape by boat were taken prisoner. A Gibraltar message states that H.M. battleship Repulse has gone to Palma to take off a party of Britons.

Barcelona: It is officially stated that over 300 people were killed in the fighting last week. The city is now calm and the tram and bus services have started again.

Genoa: An Italian steamer brought 1,500 refugees from Barcelona yesterday, 1,000 of whom are Italians and the remainder of other nationalities.

Berlin: The German battleship Deutschland has arrived at San Sebastian for the protection of the German colony. The battleship Admiral von Scheer is expected to proceed to Barcelona.

Genoa: The death of an unknown British business man is reported by refugees from Barcelona. They state that the Briton, accompanied by a Swiss friend, was escaping from the city in a motor-car when a picket of Red guards held them up and covered the occupants with revolvers. The sudden application of the brakes caused a tyre to burst and the guards, thinking that the occupants were firing, thereupon fired a volley and killed both the Briton and the Swiss.

Lisbon: How groups of armed Communists stormed the houses of over 100 landowners and, after assaulting their wives and daughters, cut off an ear from each householder before leaving, is told by fugitives from Badajoz, who are crossing the frontier in ever-increasing numbers.

Portuguese refugees from Vigo are straggling to Oporto on foot, penniless, after being robbed by Spanish Communists at the frontier.

One party said they saw the body of a priest hanging outside a tavern with his head battered in. All the rich people's homes have been sacked, causing widespread panic.

Surrender Of City Ordered & Refused

HOMERIC ONSLAUGHT ON SARAGOSSA

London, To-day.

"I order you to surrender the city"—"I refuse"—were messages exchanged between the loyalist and the rebel General Cabanellas respectively yesterday. They concluded a Homeric onslaught on Saragossa.

The Government forces have established an air base at Lerida, eight miles from Saragossa, from which they conduct a continuous bombardment, which has already badly shattered the fine old town. Three other critical areas outside Madrid are Seville, on the way to which the loyalists have reached the city of Cordova; Albacete, captured from the rebels, which facilitates the re-victimisation of the capital; and San Sebastian, around which the loyalists are gaining ground. — Reuter.

Only One Diplomatic Incident

WATER SUPPLY CUT OFF

Hendaye, To-day.

In the course of Saturday and yesterday General Mola's troops occupied all the passes in the mountains within a radius of 50 km. from Madrid in the Guadarrama and Sierra Somo. The vanguard of General Franco's army has reached Aranjuez from the South via Alcazar de St. Juan. Both of the only two water-ways to the capital were cut by the military party.

As the Madrid reservoirs have only a supply for three days, even the strictest rationing will bring Madrid to the end of its resources within six days.

LEGATION UNDER FIRE

Warsaw: According to a message from Madrid the Polish Legation was under fire for some time. The Commercial Attaché and his wife had just returned to the Legation when a group of the People's Front Militia, led by an aviation captain, entered the grounds and fired on the Legation, about 30 shots in all being fired. By nothing less than a miracle nobody was hurt.

This news was received after the Polish Foreign Minister had at last succeeded in getting into telephonic contact with his Legation in Madrid. Strong protests have been lodged with the Spanish authorities, in Madrid as well as in Warsaw.

A great part of the Polish colony in Madrid and many Polish tourists have sought refuge in the Legation, but food supplies will only last for a few days. — Trans-Ocean Service.

WEATHER REPORT

Pressure is highest over the Pacific to the south-east of Japan, and relatively low over Manchuria, Indo-China and the Pacific between the Philippines and the Caroline Islands. South-east winds, fresh; cloudy, occasional rain, was the forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory this morning.

RAILWAY STEAMER ASHORE

Passengers Taken Off In Boats

CLYDE FOG MISHAP

Glasgow.
Five women and seven Glasgow business men were rowed ashore when the L.M.S. railway steamer Atalanta (846 tons), of Glasgow, grounded on the island of Great Cumbræ, in the Firth of Clyde in fog early one day last month.

The Atalanta, a boat well known to Clyde holiday-makers, ran aground about two miles from her first port of call, Millport, the island harbour town.

"One of the passengers, Mr. H. N. Currie, said that when they started from Kilchattan Bay, Bute, the fog was very thick. As the steamer made its way very slowly across the Firth there was a crash, and those on deck saw rocks looming up ahead.

Grating Noise

"We heard the engine telegraphing for astern," said Mr. Currie, "but before the ship could be stopped there was a heavy grating noise. Everything happened so slowly and so calmly that there was no suggestion of panic. No one was unduly disturbed. The women on board were not in the least alarmed.

"When it was realised that the Atalanta could not be moved for some considerable time the boats were launched and the passengers taken ashore and disembarked on the rocks.

Minor Mishaps

"There were a few minor mishaps as the passengers made their way over the rocks, some of them slipping into pools of water. On reaching the road they were taken in taxi-cabs to Keppel, and then by motor-boat to Fairlie on the mainland.

Great Cumbræ is three and a half miles long and two miles wide, and lies between Bute Island and the coast of Ayr. It has a population of about 6,000.

The Atalanta floated on the rising tide the next afternoon and went into dry dock at Ardrossan, under her own steam, for examination. It was stated that one propeller was damaged, but injury to the hull was slight.

VISCOUNTESS IN CAR RALLY

One hundred and ninety-seven cars arrived in Blackpool one night last month, completing the 250 miles road section of the Blackpool diamond jubilee car rally. The first woman driver to check in was Miss O. Bailey, of Birmingham, who was followed by Viscountess Chetwynd.

RATTLESNAKES IN COURT

Los Angeles.—Two rattlesnakes, named "Lethal" and "Lightning," were exhibits in the trial here last month of Robert James, who is charged with murdering his fifth wife by means of rattlesnake bites and drowning.

His defence is insanity. The two snakes are those which the State alleges he used to murder his wife.

£20 FINE FOR £2 THEFT

Baronet Four Days In Cell

MAGISTRATE'S SHARP COMMENTS

Sir Harry Leonard d'Arcy Waechter, aged 24, of Crown Hill, Devon, who was arrested when he failed to answer summonses, was at Crown Hill last month fined £20 for damaging an electric meter and stealing £2.

Mr. J. Woodland, defending, said that Sir Harry was told by his mother, Lady Waechter, to go to London. As it was too late to cash a cheque he broke open the meter, telling an employee to inform the authorities.

He did not appear when summoned because on the same day he had to attend bankruptcy proceedings. Mr. Woodland added that Sir Harry had spent four days in a cell at Crown Hill police station.

Non-Payment Of Fines
Sir Harry was also summoned for non-payment of fines imposed in April for motoring offences. Mr. Woodland guaranteed that arrears of £17 would be paid within two days.

The Chairman, Dr. W. E. M. Corbett, said this was a most disgraceful case, and it is only on account of your youth that we have not sent you to prison.

Sir Harry was ordered to pay £10 costs.

MURDER CHARGE IN U.S.

Alleged Use Of Snakes

WITNESS COLLAPSES

Los Angeles.
When the trial of Robert James, a 39-years-old hairdresser, for the murder of his 27-years-old wife was resumed here last month, Charles Hope, a witness, collapsed after describing how he had helped James to place his wife's leg in a box containing a rattlesnake.

Hope has confessed to his share in the crime, leaving James to stand his trial on the murder charge alone.

Hope described how he and James thrust the bare leg of Mrs. Mary James into the box. Mrs. James, he said, was strapped to the kitchen table, and adhesive tape was placed over her mouth while she was subjected to the bite of the snake.

When the poison failed to work quickly enough, Hope declared, James drowned his wife in a bath. Mrs. James was found drowned in the bath last August. She was James's fifth wife. Her life had been heavily insured.

SUICIDE TO AVOID MARRIAGE

St. Pancras Baker Gasses Himself

LETTER TO PARENTS IN CYPRUS

A letter from a native of Cyprus, who wrote that he had "sentenced himself to death" was read at an inquest at Paddington last month.

The man was Costas Savva Haji Kyriacou, aged 25, a baker, who was found gassed at his lodgings in Whitfield-street, St. Pancras.

A verdict of suicide while of unsound mind was recorded.

Andreas Georgiou, a friend, said that Kyriacou was worried because he promised to marry by special licence the sister of his landlord, and he did not want to marry her.

Kyriacou was sending money to his parents to whom he was devoted, Georgiou added, and if he had married he would have had to stop doing so. Kyriacou said that he did not want to break his word regarding the marriage.

"I Lose My Youth"
The coroner read the following letter written in Greek by Kyriacou to his parents, brothers and sisters:

"For the last time I take the pen with light hand and write on the blue paper the following. My adorable parents, I write to you that to-night, Sunday night, I commit suicide and lose my own youth and my brave body at the age of 25 abroad where I have nobody to look after me and say a good word for me.

"I know, my dear parents, that my death will cause you a great heavy mourning when you will hear of it. I pray to God to console you.

"I know, my dear parents, that I had been for long years at home, and I was the only descendant who was giving you some joy. My tragic sentence of death which I give to myself is to get rid of the worries which are already over me.

"Disgusting Words"
"It is, my dear parents, I have been connected with a girl with whom I would not be connected with and lose my youth and to listen to so many disgusting words from her brother and which were a great burden for me, and so, my parents, for the sake of the family honour and my social respect I had in Cyprus, it was not suitable for me to get married to a girl who was not suitable to me, and to live with her; and if I got married abroad without your consent and lived in misery, I prefer to give a finish to-night and to surrender my spirit in peace, and I shall pray to God to console you, and light me a candle and take care of my other brothers.

"Before I finish, I advise you, my brothers, never to leave your home till the end of your life, and always work like I used to and take care of your home and try to help your parents to the last breath.

Sorrow Caused
"I quite realise all the sorrow you will all have. I pray to God to forgive me for this sin I shall commit to-night, and I close this letter with watered eyes and say good-bye to all parents, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends."

In another letter, written to a friend, Kyriacou said that he was committing suicide for his honour and for that of his family.

Gilbert Blane gold medals for contributing to improvement in the health of the Royal Navy have been awarded to Surgeon-Capt. D. H. C. Given (retired) and Surgeon-Cmdr. M. E. Macleod.

MAN COMMENDED BY CORONER

Rescue Attempt By Poor Swimmer

A man who, though he could swim only a few strokes, made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue a drowning friend was complimented by the coroner at an Eton inquest last month.

The inquest was on Leonard Charles Slater, aged 21, of Selsdon-road, West Norwood, who was drowned in the Thames on Sunday. Dennis Frank Foddering, of West Norwood, said that he and three friends, including Slater, hired a punt at Windsor. None of them could swim more than a few strokes and they were not used to handling punts.

Paddle Lost
Near Windsor racecourse Slater lost a paddle and went in the water after it. He reached it, but when he turned back he could make no headway against the current. Foddering jumped in and reached him, but became exhausted and was compelled to release his hold.

The coroner, Mr. J. Bailey Gibson, recording a verdict of accidental death, said that Foddering acted with great courage. It was a pity that people who could not swim went on the river.

BEES CAUSE ROAD CRASH

Lorry Driver Loses Control

Four people were injured last month in an accident caused by a swarm of bees at Ripple-road, Barking, Essex. When the bees entered the cab of a lorry the driver lost control and the vehicle collided with a private car.

The four occupants of the car were taken to hospital, where Charles Murdoch, of Horn-road, Ilford, was detained.

FOREIGNERS IN THE FAR EAST

There are few men, or women either, who can continuously live in the Far East without sometimes getting run-down. For this reason there has always been a popular demand all over the East for that famous blood and nerve tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, throughout the past thirty or more years.

When the heat has sapped vitality and thinned the blood, or when fever has left the system weakened and depressed, the blood-creating, nerve-strengthening properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the treatment needed.

The prescription of an eminent physician, an M.D. of Edinburgh University, Scotland, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have the action in remarkable degree of creating new, rich, red blood, thereby increasing the number of red blood corpuscles and the haemoglobin being the substance which carries oxygen from the lungs to every cell and tissue of the body.

With this strength-giving, nerve-invigorating blood flowing in your veins you quickly regain your former good health. Equally good for men, women and growing children, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are obtainable from medicine dealers everywhere.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD" — STAR THEATRE

Rafael Sabatini's story "Captain Blood" has been splendidly brought to the screen by Michael Curtiz and is packed full of thrills and excitement. Errol Flynn, the handsome young Irishman, one of Hollywood's latest "discoveries," makes a splendid and romantic figure as Captain Blood, and Olivia de Havilland is lovely and appealing as Arabella Bishop, niece of the man whom Blood has most cause to hate.

There are some magnificent scenes of sea-fights—an attack on Port Royal by a Spanish pirate, and the fight between Blood's ship and two French frigates—and a truly wonderful exhibition of sword-play in the fight between Blood and his quondam partner, Captain Levasseur. Almost every part, big or small, is in the hands of a feature player, amongst whom are such people as Lionel Atwill, Guy Kibbee, Forrester Harvey, Basil Rathbone, Henry Stephenson, Ross Alexander and others.

Cinema Notes From The Theatres

"THE 39 STEPS"—KING'S THEATRE

This English thriller produced by British Gaumont is the story of an unusual type of spy drama. It is full of unexpected situations and is so cleverly devised that it is impossible to foresee the end, except, of course, that one may be sure the hero will emerge from his tribulations triumphant.

Robert Donat in the lead is exceptionally good and is thoroughly well supported by Madeleine Carroll and Lucie Mannheim in the two leading women's parts, the first named acting with very considerable finish and conviction. Godfrey Tearle, as the sinister foreign secret service agent, plays as would be expected of him, while Peggy Ashcroft as the crofter's wife is as sympathetic as John Laurie, her husband, is hard and dour. The producers are to be congratulated on bringing together a number of artists who so completely fill the parts allotted to them, working so well together that the story is welded into one harmonious whole.

"MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN"—ALHAMBRA THEATRE

Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur play the principal parts in this picture, which tells the story of Longfellow Deeds, a rustic young man who suddenly falls heir to $20,000,000 and goes to New York City against his will to claim his money. The adventures that befall him are said to make for some of the choicest hilarity the screen has seen in years.

He gets mixed up with a girl newspaper reporter; goes out on a roaring drunk; feeds doughnuts to a horse to see how many the animal will eat before asking for a cup of coffee; dashes madly around the city streets in his underwear; tries to give his entire fortune away to needy farmers, and manages to get himself arrested as mentally incompetent.

In the strong supporting cast are found George Bancroft, Lionel Stander, Douglass Dumbrille, H. B. Warner, Raymond Walburn, Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, Warren Hymer and others. Robert Riskin wrote the screen play, from a story by Clarence Budington Kelland.

"LET 'EM HAVE IT"—MAJESTIC THEATRE

Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Alice Brady, Bruce Cabot, Harvey Stephens, Eric Linden and Gordon Jones head the cast, which also includes Hale Hamilton, J. Farrell MacDonald, Dorothy Appleby, Barbara Pepper and a score of other popular names, in this picture.

Joseph Moncure March and Elmer Harris wrote the story, which presents Arlen, Stephens and Jones as three fearless Federal sleuths who pit science and brains against machine-guns.

Cabot is seen as Joe Keefer, a chauffeur who starts his shocking career of crime by engineering the attempted kidnapping of his society girl employer, played by Virginia Bruce. Paroled, he grows more and more daring, finally becoming "Public Enemy No. 1."

The relentless pursuit and final spectacular capture of Keefer by the three friends makes one of the most exciting adventures the screen has ever shown.

Virginia Bruce and Richard Arlen provide the romance, while Alice Brady provides the comedy.

"ROBIN HOOD OF EL DORADO"—ORIENTAL THEATRE

Most of this picture was made in the remote wilderness of Central California, the region in which millions were taken in the gold boom and where Murrieta, played by Warner Baxter, led his wild men in raids on the scattered American settlements.

Real-life happenings were dramatised and transferred into action by 200 men and women from Hollywood, who with the assistance of numerous residents of the gold belt re-created events that made history in the days of '49.

Appearing with Warner Baxter are Ann Loring, Bruce Cabot, Margo, Harvey Stephens and Charles Trowbridge.

BRIDGE NOTES

The Ears Play Tricks

By Ely Culbertson

Some of the most amusing incidents of the bridge table arise from the failure of one of the players to hear the bidding correctly. In the recent tournament held in New York by the United States Bridge association my partner, Teddy Lightner, caused the following hilarious incident:

South West North East Pass Pass Pass Double! Lightner was East, and thought that South, instead of passing, had bid one heart. His untimely double threw us all into confusion. We were not sure what the penalty was, and called the tournament director.

In rubber bridge, such a double would bar both East and West from the bidding; since East could not bid and the others all had passed out. For play in a tournament, however, the law covering this point is slightly different. West (I was West) is barred, but East may bid anything he wishes. If he thinks his side can make a game, he should contract for game immediately, for his partner is unable to keep the bidding open for him and the opponents may choose to pass a part-score bid.

In this case Lightner had a minimum hand and decided to pass. Our loss was not great, since we could have made no more than one no trump.

When one considers that a national championship tournament once ended in a tie between two teams, and another was decided by the margin of 20 points, one can realise the importance of keeping on one's toes during every minute of a tournament and trying to make overtricks on every hand. This same reasoning does not hold true in rubber bridge, when the possible overtricks should be sacrificed to insure making a game.

North, dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:
North East South West
3 dia's (1) Pass 3 no trump Pass
(final bid)

(1) For some time I have been working on a "two-way" three-bid which sometimes shows a strong hand and sometimes a weak hand, leaving the opponents in the dark and making them fear to enter the bidding lest they run into a strong hand and be doubled. This three-bid usually will show a solid suit, which will give partner valuable information if he should be able to play the hand at no trump.

West opened the four of hearts, which dummy's singleton queen won. South, at this point, had only one safe way to be sure of making three no trump—the lead of a small diamond from the dummy, giving up one trick. This play can be necessary only when one opponent holds all four diamonds, which is highly unlikely. If the diamonds are divided 3-1 the low diamond lead sacrifices at least one trick and probably more.

This hand was played in a tournament and not one South player led the low diamond. Each played the diamond ace from dummy and, when East revealed his void, cursed himself for not making the safe play. Their self-reproaches, however, were not deserved. They were right to play for overtricks rather than guard against the one slim chance of going down. In rubber bridge, had they not made the safety play, they would have deserved censure. A club or spade opening would have defeated three no trump, but neither of these seemed to be as good as the heart lead to the various West players.

WILL QUASHED AND OMAHA MEET AGAIN?

100-Year-Old Race Could Be Revived

KNAVESMIRE'S GREAT MATCH TRADITIONS

(By HOTSPUR)

London, July 3. Several racecourse executives would like to have the distinction of putting on a race in which the Ascot Gold Cup first and second, Quashed and Omaha, could renew their great struggle of last week before Mr. Woodward's colts return to the United States.

Lord Stanley is averse from the idea of a "match" between them, because Quashed, great as she is, is not a match runner and needs a pacemaker to bring out the best that is in her. But a race under conditions similar to those of the Ascot Gold Cup is not difficult to arrange.

When the idea of a return race between the English filly and the American colt was first mooted, it was suggested that the two-mile course at York was an ideal meeting-ground.

Great Match Traditions

The Knavesmire has great match traditions, for it was there that Voltigeur and The Flying Dutchman ran the most celebrated match in the history of the English turf.

I believe that the York Race Committee has under consideration a race to take place on August 25, the first day of their meeting — the second and third days have the historic Ebor Handicap and Gimcrack Stakes — on conditions the same as those at Ascot, with the consequent variations in the weight for age, the race being two months later in the season.

ESCOBAR STRIPPED OF HIS PRESTIGE

Bantamweight Holder Loses On Points

TRIUMPH FOR SOUTH AMERICAN BOXER

New York, July 15.

Sixto Escobar, world bantamweight champion in the eyes of the National Boxing Association, was virtually stripped of his prestige to-night when he dropped a 10-round decision to Carlos Quintana, of Panama.

Quintana is bantamweight titleholder of Central America.

His appearance to-night is his most important since he lost to Lou Salica, ex-bantamweight champion, in December, 1934. Most of his fights last year were with second raters in the division.

Escobar was crowned champion by the NBA when he won a decision over Lou Salica in a return bout for the title in November, last year.

Quintana tipped the scales at 119½ pounds. Escobar weighed 121 pounds.

MAK WAI MING WINS HARBOUR SWIM

RECORD ENTRY OF 72 PARTICIPATE

DISMAL CONDITIONS AT C.B.C.

(By "Crawl")

DESPITE the bleak and dismal weather conditions yesterday afternoon, a record entry of 72 took part in the four sections of the Cross-Harbour swim held under the auspices of the Chinese Bathing Club at Tat-Sze-Mui (Quarry Bay), Mak Wai-ming, of the Chinese Civil Servants' Club, swimming a brilliantly judged race to secure first place in the fairly good time of 33 mins. 12 secs., while Lionel Roza-Pereira, of the V.R.C., and a former Colony cross-harbour champion, was second 3 mins. 18 secs. behind.

The four sections of the race were divided into Open races for Men and Ladies, and the C.B.C. divisions for Men and Ladies. The Ladies took off first from the main launch just off the Kowloon Docks, and were followed five minutes later by the men, the latter finishing the course of just over a mile before the fairer sex.

Eighteen men and 10 Ladies entered for the Open Sections, while 36 men and 8 Ladies entered for the Club sections, but of this total 42 competitors did not finish the course, probably due to the strong current and the wrong course they followed, which landed some of them in the vicinity of the Tai Kok Sugar Refinery or at least half a mile past the finishing mark!

There were several major upsets, Miss Au Yun-chiu, who commenced a hot favourite in both the Ladies' Open section and the C.B.C. Ladies' section, being unplaced and not finishing the course. The V.R.C. gained their only win in this event. Miss V. Thirwell, the best of the three well-known sisters, finishing first, 19 mins. and 14 secs. behind Mak Wai-ming, winner of the Men's Open Section.

The European Y.M.C.A. were represented by two swimmers in W. Stoker, who finished 28th, and G. Magnus, who failed to reach the finish after being carried well below the South China Athletic Association Bathing Pavilion. The Service entrant Sergt. Strauss, of the Royal Air Force, was 29th.

Biggest Upset

One of the biggest upsets was the complete eclipse of Shek Kam-pui, a former cross-harbour champion, who came in 15th, while Norman Lee, the South China representative, arrived late for the start. Miss Yeung Sau-chun who was supposed to have started, did not make an appearance.

The Ladies left the start first and Miss V. Thirwell, the winner, jumped into an immediate lead, although she followed the wrong course by making for the Light Buoy instead of the Commercial Press, but in this she was followed by her strongest challengers and almost the rest of the field. On the finishing stretch she had to fight her way against a strong current running from the harbour towards Lyemun.

K.C.C. Lawn Bowler

HARRY GITTINS, father of S. V. Gittins, one of the finest short distance swimmers in the Colony, is well-known in local bowls circles, having played for the Kowloon Cricket Club First Division team for the past eight seasons.

Born in Foonchong in 1874, he was educated at the Diocesan Boys' School, where he was prominent at cricket, there being no soccer in those early days.

He also played a fair amount of tennis and was among the first to use the Y.M.C.A. courts at Causeway Bay, where he used to play with Ng Sze-kwong, who was later to win the Colony Championship.

Later he took to bowls on coming to reside in Kowloon, and joined the K.C.C. Although he has been available for a Shanghai visit on several occasions, he has never been selected for an Interport, although last year he reached the Final of the K.C.C. President's Cup (Singles Championship), when he was unfortunately taken ill with appendicitis and was forced to concede a walkover to R. P. Phillips.

JAPANESE SWIMMERS IN FINE TRIM

Utoh Lowers World 400 Metres Mark

AMAZING SPEED TRIALS WITNESSED

(By "LEIGHTON")

Berlin, July 17. An indication of the performances that may be expected at the Olympic Games has been provided by the Japanese swimmers in their tests against the watch at Berlin. Other swimmers were astounded by the times recorded.

Utoh covered 400 metres in 4 minutes 42 seconds, which is four seconds inside the world record held by Nagami, whom he defeated. Making did the distance in 4 minutes 52 seconds, and the slowest time was 5 min. 2 sec.

In the 100 metres trial, Yusa registered 57½ sec., while Aria did it in 57/4-5 sec.

Where Success Lies

A critic attributes their amazing speed not only to their immaculate style, but also to their physique, clean living, physical culture, and training methods.

He says their styles are apparently not different from the rest of the world, but all have sound constitutions and very strong bodies. They have been very carefully selected and scientifically developed.

WIMBLEDON PLAYER INJURED

Miss Anne Page, the American squash racket champion, who has been playing in the lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon, has, it is feared, broken her right arm as the result of a fall in her match against Miss M. Baumgarten, in the All-England Plate. She was taken by car to King's College Hospital, Denmark Hill.

BUT HEAT PROVED WORST ENEMY

BAREFOOTED PLAYERS' VERY FAST GAME

DOUBTFUL PENALTY AWARDED

Calcutta, July 5.

INDIA and China shared two goals and the honours in the first soccer international to be played in India. This memorable game, played on the Calcutta F.C. ground yesterday, was the occasion for scenes that will be remembered for a generation. The crowd inside could not have been less than 20,000. Thousands and thousands who tried to gain admission were disappointed.

The crowd began to collect from an early hour of the morning — about 200 had to be turned out of the enclosure at 6.30 a.m. — and before noon there were not less than 10,000 persons clamouring for admission. The opening of the gates shortly before 1 p.m. was the signal for unprecedented scenes, but the police, to whom tribute must be paid for their patience and their tact in most trying circumstances, managed to keep order.

And the game came up to expectations. That the Chinese failed to maintain their usual rate of goal-scoring they attribute to the heat. It was hotter, they said, than at any other place they had played, and they were not able to give of their best. And they paid tribute to their opponents, who gave a much better display than they had expected. The Chinese were, however, disappointed at their failure to win, and they are hopeful that they will give a much better account of themselves to-morrow. They found the ground too hard and the ball a little too lively for them, particularly as in Rangoon they had played on heavy grounds.

India deserved to draw. That they did so by a penalty goal — and that for a perfectly harmless-looking foul which few people on the ground even noticed, and which would have not been penalised by most referees — does not matter.

India rose to the occasion as few expected them to, and, on the amount of attacking they did, they fully deserved a division of the honours. Any other result would have left a wrong impression of the game.

The ground being bone-dry, the whole of the Indian team except Carr and Mazumdar were barefooted and their speed gave the Chinese a good deal of worry. Added to their speed was the skillful dribbling of the Indians and their combination; the excellent understanding that prevailed between the forwards and the halves.

Value Of "W" Formation

One point about the game which was not generally appreciated was that whereas India adopted the "W" formation, China started and continued with the five-forward attack. With two such fast and clever forwards as Rahim and Bhattacharjee doing dual duty in attack and defence, the local team were at an advantage. Besides the Chinese forwards generally played too far up the field and gave no assistance to their hard worked defenders. There is little doubt that the Chinese underrated their opponents.

M.C.C. DONATION TO LARWOOD'S BENEFIT FUND

"Olive Branch Idea" Misconstrued

NOTTS FAST BOWLER FOR AUSTRALIA!

(By "LEIGHTON")

London, July 15.

Much has been made of the £25 subscription contributed by the M.C.C. to Larwood's benefit fund. It has been construed as an indication that the M.C.C. are prepared to wave the olive branch before the eyes of the Notts man.

Actually this M.C.C. subscription is nothing of the kind. It is just the usual procedure. When a man who has done his bit for England takes his benefit the M.C.C. always appear on his list for £25.

It has also been assumed that Larwood has only to express his willingness to play again for England, thus retracting his previous statements, for him to get an invitation to Australia by return of post.

May Go To Write

The Australians have let it be known that they are ready and willing to let bygones be bygones — to forget what has happened. Larwood, often voluble in the past, is maintaining a stolid silence on the question, and so is Voce.

There are, however, complications arising. Because of the past, Larwood is considered to have a commercial value, and the story goes that he has been approached to go to Australia, not to play for England, but to write his impressions of the Test matches for a four-figure fee.

Without going into the details of this offer it can be said that, if Larwood accepted, he would profit to a much greater extent, financially, than by bowling the Australians out.

CHUNG SHING GALA POSTPONED

Water-Polo Match And Exhibition Diving

Although the third monthly swimming gala of the Chung Shing Benevolent Society scheduled for last Saturday night was postponed owing to inclement weather, a diving exhibition by So Tin-mo and Kwok Chi-shun, the Club champions, was given before a large gathering of spectators. This was followed by an exhibition of fancy floating. A water-polo game against the 24th Battery, R. A., brought the evening's entertainment to a close, the home team winning by six clear goals. The postponed gala will take place next Saturday night.

LOCAL BASEBALL TIES POSTPONED

Owing to the sudden state of the grounds at Causeway Bay and at Caroline Hill, the local Baseball League matches scheduled for yesterday were postponed.

Lee Tin-sang, above, gave a wonderful display at right-back for the All-China team in their first clash against the All-India selected soccer eleven.

COATES AND GRIMMITT TO MEET TO-DAY

OPEN SINGLES IN LAST STAGES

RECREIO STARS CLASH ON THURSDAY

Lawn bowls enthusiasts will probably go down to the Hong Kong Football Club ground this afternoon in their numbers to watch the first of the Semi-Finals in the Open Singles Championship between A. E. Coates, of Craigmower Cricket Club, and A. W. Grimmer, the Civil Service Cricket Club stalwart and 1934 champion.

Although both players are in very good form at the moment, the odds are slightly in favour of Grimmer winning his way through to the Final. Grimmer is, however, not the same bowler as last year, due no doubt to the fact that he has not had as much practice as may be desired, and in glancing at the manner in which the two players have progressed, one cannot help noticing that Coates had the harder passage of the two. An excellent game, however, should result, with very little difference in the score at the end.

All-Recreio Affair

The second semi-final, which will be played at the Kowloon Docks on Thursday, will be an all-Recreio affair in that H. A. (Dickie) Alves meets his clubmate, L. A. Gutierrez.

MISS ROUND AND MISS STAMMERS DEFEATED

CHILEAN PLAYER IS MAGNIFICENT

DOUBLES CHAMPIONS BEAT THEMSELVES

VETERAN FRENCH PAIR TRIUMPH

(By A. Wallis Myers)

London, July 1.

DARK clouds again invested Wimbledon yesterday, and although the rain held off the courts bore traces of overnight storms, and steel-pointed shoes were permitted on those "in the country." Perhaps the skies were in mourning for the British reverses in the women's singles. Both Miss Round and Miss Stammers were beaten in "straight sets," and the four semi-finalists lined up without a home representative.

Miss Stammers was defeated in two nine-game sets by Mlle. Jedzejowska, the champion of Poland, and Miss Round, after making a gallant effort in the second set to turn the tide, fell to the champion of Germany, Mrs. Sperling, who won 6-3, 8-6. As the champions of America and France, Miss Jacobs and Mme. Mathieu, won their fifth round matches yesterday, the champions of four different countries are left to bid for the title.

Miss Jacobs had the "fright of her life" when she encountered the little Senorita Lizana for the first time. The centre court gallery had its first silence of suspense when the Chilean champion led 4-2 and 30-love in the final set. She looked like the reincarnation of Lenglen preparing to deliver the coup de grace. But her morale was shaken by an untimely fall, and Miss Jacobs, inexorable as ever, saved the match.

England's eclipse in the last eight for the second successive year is a retrogression that ought to be checked. The country teams with promising players and facilities for play.

Is it possible that style is over cultivated and strokes developed without regard to the strategic art? And is the will-to-win strengthened by the system of wholesale tournament play?

The day brought its major surprise when Crawford and Quist, the Australian holders of the doubles title, were beaten in a weird five-set match by Borotra and Brugnon, the French holders in 1932 and 1933—an "unseeded" pair deemed to be past their prime.

Hard Blows From Poland

Having seen Mlle. Jedzejowska defeat Miss Stammers three times in two sets on the Continent this year, I anticipated that the Polish champion meant trouble on the centre court.

She is not a supreme tactician like Miss Jacobs or Mrs. Sperling, but she is a dealer in withering blows, and she has now cultivated the complement of stubborn defence.

Moreover, her top-spin forehand drive, dipping abruptly, did not encourage the volleying attack that Miss Stammers courted. The ball more often than not trapped her in an untenable position.

Mlle. Jedzejowska also had her service under firm control, and since the receiver could only reply to it with a robust return the risk of misadventure was always there.

Few Tribulations

It was a match that had few tribulations for the winner. After leading 3-1, a service ace carried her to 4-2; she broke through her opponent's service from 30 in the seventh game, and was out with a love game in the eighth.

England's cause looked more hopeful when, with Poland in reaction, Miss Stammers led 3-2 in the second set.

But Mlle. Jedzejowska, renewing her forceful campaign and finding loopholes down her adversary's backhand line, did not lose another game. She made some amazing shots and her opponent was richly earned.

Miss Round's Recovery

Miss Round's encounter with the German champion had a depressing start and a gloomy ending; for mistimed shots came freely from the English racket. In the opening set, and the stroke that pairings, although the margin in their favour will not be very great.

Recreio and U.S.R.C. will be featured in an interesting clash in view of the fact that the latter will have to rely on the same team which was crushingly defeated by the Chinese. The Portuguese are weak in their ladies, but with the experience gained to date, should give their opponents a good game.

Senorita Anita Lizana, of Chile, who proved to be the outstanding personality at Wimbledon this year, went down to Helen Jacobs, the ultimate winner, in a magnificent battle in the Fifth Round of the Women's Singles Championship.

lost the match was a double fault. Yet between these disasters came glorious play, and if Miss Round had only found her best form earlier she might have subjugated the most ruthless player in Europe.

Mrs. Sperling did not need to play particularly well in her passage through the first set, and took an ominous lead of 5-2 in the second.

Her opponent fed her score sheet with many unearned points, especially when she attempted a forcing shot off a half-court ball. But Mrs. Sperling, trying to draw Miss Round forward with a slow, checked return, frequently netted the ball in a way that she rarely does on the Continent.

Sudden Reprisal

I imagine that Mrs. Sperling was quite unprepared for the sudden surge of strength which came to Miss Round in her desperate plight.

Length and aim both returned; Miss Round, coming to the net, made a stream of beautiful volleys. She lost only one point in each of the three games gathered to square the set. There was riotous applause at this reprisal.

Undismayed, as she always is, Mrs. Sperling replied by serving finely in the 11th game. She was forced to yield the 12th, but, tenacious as ever and racing forward for the insidious drop that no other player would have covered, she took the next two games, the 14th, as I have mentioned, with the aid of a double fault.

Fil Horn Falls

Mme. Mathieu was very lucky to escape with only a two-set test against Fil Horn, the present No. 1 in Germany—for Mrs. Sperling is, of course, now domiciled in Denmark.

By patient all-court play, her upley scoring no less than her drives, Fil Horn came steadily to set point in the first set.

TOKYO GIANTS TO TOUR NORTH CHINA

Newspaper-Owned Baseball Squad's Big Itinerary

Nagoya, July 18.—The Tokyo Giants, owned by the Yomiuri Shimbun, a leading local paper, will leave here in a few days for Manchuria and North China for a series of baseball games with Chinese and foreign teams.

The itinerary of the squad includes Antung, where a game will be played on August 1. Mukden, Fushun, Hsinking, Harbin, Soupingkai, Anshan, Dairen and Tientsin. The tour will last a month. Last year the Giants visited the Pacific Coast of the United States. — (Domei).

COATES AND GRIMMITT TO MEET TO-DAY

Alves created a sensation when he beat the holder, "Bob" Duncan, in the First Round, but his subsequent showing in the tournament confirmed the impression gained then that his win over so experienced a bowler was no flash in the pan.

Gutierrez had a fairly easy passage to the Semi-Final Round and if present form is any indication, Alves should win comfortably.

AMENDED BAULK-LINE RULING

London, July 2.

Walter Lindrum, last month at the George Street store of David Jones in Sydney, broke the world's record for a break under the amended baulk-line rule, which requires the cue-ball to cross the line within the last 20 points of every 200.

When the world's champion set out to create new figures, the record stood to the credit of English champion, Joe Davis, at 1,177.

The remarkable thing is, that while Lindrum tackled his task in Australia, Davis and Tom Newman each made successful attempts in England.

Newman lifted the figure to 1,394, and on the following day Davis increased it to 1,784.

GARCIA KNOCKS OUT KID AZTECA

Hollywood, July 17.—Ceferino Garcia to-night knocked out Kid Azteca, of Mexico City, in the fifth round of their ten-round bout. Garcia weighed 146 and Azteca 145 pounds. The crowd booed the boxers during the first four rounds, in which both alternately danced out of each other's reach and clinched. — (United Press).

R.A.F. Reorganisation

In the important communique recently issued from the Air Ministry may be seen certain natural and essential developments of the expansion scheme which has been vigorously carried on during the last 12 months. It is still far from complete, but it is sufficiently advanced to require large measures of reorganisation and decentralisation for the increases in personnel and in the number of squadrons, training grounds and aerodromes concerned. In Home Defence. Moreover, the changes are themselves highly significant of the steady evolution of ideas as to the best methods of defence in the air. Instead of only two Air Commands, the single unwieldy Air Defence of Great Britain Command and the Coastal Command, there will henceforth be four, each complete and separate in itself, but all four co-ordinated by the Air Ministry. The creation of a new Bomber Command, and the first place assigned to it in the official category, are a plain recognition that the Bomber is now considered the first line of defence in the air.

It sounds paradoxical, but the great speed of the latest bombing planes renders it very difficult for the fighter to climb up quickly enough to encounter them and drive them off. Thus the best defence lies in the deterrent influence of the bomber and its ability to retaliate on the enemy. The fighter, whose speed is also being constantly increased, has still a most varied role to play, but the two Commands are henceforth to be quite independent. The existing Coastal Command is to be reorganised and responsible for the administration and shore training of the Fleet Air Arm: the new Training Command will have charge of all the training units at home. The distinguished officers selected to be the new Commander-in-Chief are among the most experienced and ablest in the Service, and they are certain to welcome unreservedly the much greater freedom from purely administrative duties which they will henceforth enjoy. In other words, they will be relieved of masses of office work and be able to devote themselves to the "strategical, operational and training aspects of their respective Commands." Taken altogether, these important changes give assured promise of greatly increased efficiency in British air defences.

Education By Radio

There is an old and true saying that a sharper impression is left on the mind by what is conveyed through the "faithful eyes" than what is transmitted through the ear. That is a standing difficulty confronting the broadcaster, and most of all perhaps the broadcaster to schools. The fact is frankly recognised in the new B.B.C. pamphlet recently issued, which gives the school courses for 1936-7, where it is observed that in order to give its full service, "broadcasting must be vitalised at both ends, at the microphone, and in the class room, by a human personality." A dull broadcaster, like a dull preacher, had better be dumb for any lasting effect he is likely to have upon school children, who are experts in the art of stubborn resistance to whatever forces them. Similarly, if the teachers cannot improve the occasion, when the

FREE SCHOOL FOR POOR BOYS

Opened By Very Rev. Bishop Valtorta

WORK OF CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN'S SOCIETY

The Very Rev. Bishop H. Valtorta last evening opened a free night school for poor boys in Caine Road, next to the premises of the Catholic Young Men's Society, through whose efforts it has been started.

The premises were provided by the Catholic Mission, and the aim of the school is to teach poor boys of the diocese elementary Chinese, and, in the near future possibly, simple English.

The building, which is of one storey with a corrugated iron roof, is 40 feet long and 38 feet wide, and is capable of accommodating about 40 boys. A section of the premises has been set aside as a recreation room.

The master is Mr. Leung Yuk-yu who has kindly offered his services without remuneration, and among the boys who have already registered their names are newspaper hawkers and boot-blacks.

Mr. Robert Chow, President of the Society, in presenting His Lordship with a silver key, gave a brief account of the inception and realisation of the idea.

His Lordship then opened the school and blessed the premises, after which he congratulated the members of the Society for their efforts in organising the school.

INQUEST ON PRISONER

Death From Natural Causes

Death from natural causes was the verdict returned at an inquest into the circumstances of the death of Wong Sau, a prisoner who died at the Victoria Gaol last Saturday morning.

Mr. C. B. Burgess was the Coroner, and he was assisted by the following jurors:—Messrs. M. U. Razack (foreman), Ko Yau-kong, and H. I. Xavier.

Dr. G. I. Shaw, medical officer of the Victoria Gaol, said that he first saw the deceased on May 23. His condition was poor. He was suffering from chronic tuberculosis and was an opium addict. He died on Saturday. At the post mortem the cause of death was found to be chronic pulmonary tuberculosis.

MAN'S DEATH REPORTED

Grievance Against The War Office

George Gordon Cumming, aged 67, an engineer, of no fixed home, told Sir Rollo Graham-Campbell at Bow-street last month that during the war his death in action was officially announced by the War Office.

As a result he was left out of the will of two wealthy people. He had since been trying to bring an action against the War Office. He suffered from shell shock, he added, and at times felt like attacking anything. "I would attack an elephant if it came my way."

Cumming, who was remanded for a medical report, was charged with being drunk and assaulting a railway policeman at Charing Cross Underground station.

talk is over, most of its effect will vanish into thin air.

Rapid growth in the number of schools — now nearly 5,000 — taking the broadcasts indicates that the local education authorities favour the innovation and approve the results obtained. Rather more than seven hours a week of the National programme are now devoted to these educational broadcasts, and the wide variety of the subjects covered is most attractive. The tendency, however, to overcrowd the curriculum in all classes of schools needs careful watching. To be switched too frequently from one subject to another is as unprofitable as being chained for too long to too few.

Here There and Everywhere

AIR SIGNALLING

Following one of the strangest accidents in history it is probable that the method of signalling by arm from highspeed aeroplanes will be changed.

Flight Lt. Rhys-Jones was leading a formation of Gauntlets from No. 19 Squadron over Gatwick, Gauntlets, one of the latest type of single-seater fighters, have a top speed in level flight approaching 240 m.p.h. They have open cockpits.

The officer flung out his arm to give the breakup signal. The blast of air from the slipstream flung his arm back with such violence that his right shoulder was dislocated. In spite of the agony, he made a perfect landing with his left hand. The problem has not arisen before because aeroplanes have never flown so fast.

THOUGHT HE'D HAD ONE

A steamer was being unloaded at Glasgow when a startled workman heard an unusual rattle from a heap of scrap. He leapt back just as a five-foot deadly rattlesnake emerged a foot from him. It then crawled into a tube. The police, called by the workman, sent for a city naturalist, who, donning a pair of thick leather gloves, frightened the snake from its hiding place, pinned it to the deck with a stick and removed it to his menagerie.

MEN AND MOTIVES IN AMERICA

RISE OF SOCIALISM IN POLITICS

COUNTRY ANXIOUS TO CREATE NEW WORLD LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P.)

MY second visit to the United States is finished. On at least ten occasions I have been allowed to broadcast, sometimes to the whole nation on what is called a "nationwide hook-up."

Broadcasting on social, industrial, political and religious questions is much more fairly and freely conducted in the States than it is by the British Broadcasting Corporation. Only on my first talk over the air was I asked to send my speech beforehand. All the others were extempore. There is no High Priest there to censor or control what the people should hear.

I have met and talked with the President, Franklin Roosevelt, the Secretary of State (that is, Foreign Minister) Mr. Cordell Hull, and Miss Perkins, the Minister of Labour. Our interviews were private.

Friendly Statesman

I found Mr. Roosevelt one of the most friendly statesmen I have met. He made me feel at home from the first moment, and talked frankly and fully on world affairs. His eyes and whole expression are very cheerful and friendly, but I noticed when speaking of things he disliked that his eyes shone as brightly as steel, as if he could see evil and was determined to destroy it.

I am much amused when I read reports in the Press that he is a Socialist. Like all Socialists, I think of the recent efforts made by the President and his Government to deal with unemployment as being no more than the kind of palliatives which have been tried out in Britain.

The Minister of Labour, Miss Perkins, who very kindly introduced me to the chiefs of her very highly organised department, is an amalgam of Margaret Bondfield and Susan Lawrence. Not quite so gentle as the one or so fiercely dogmatic as the other.

Outstanding Figure

I must specifically mention one outstanding figure in municipal life. There are many others, but

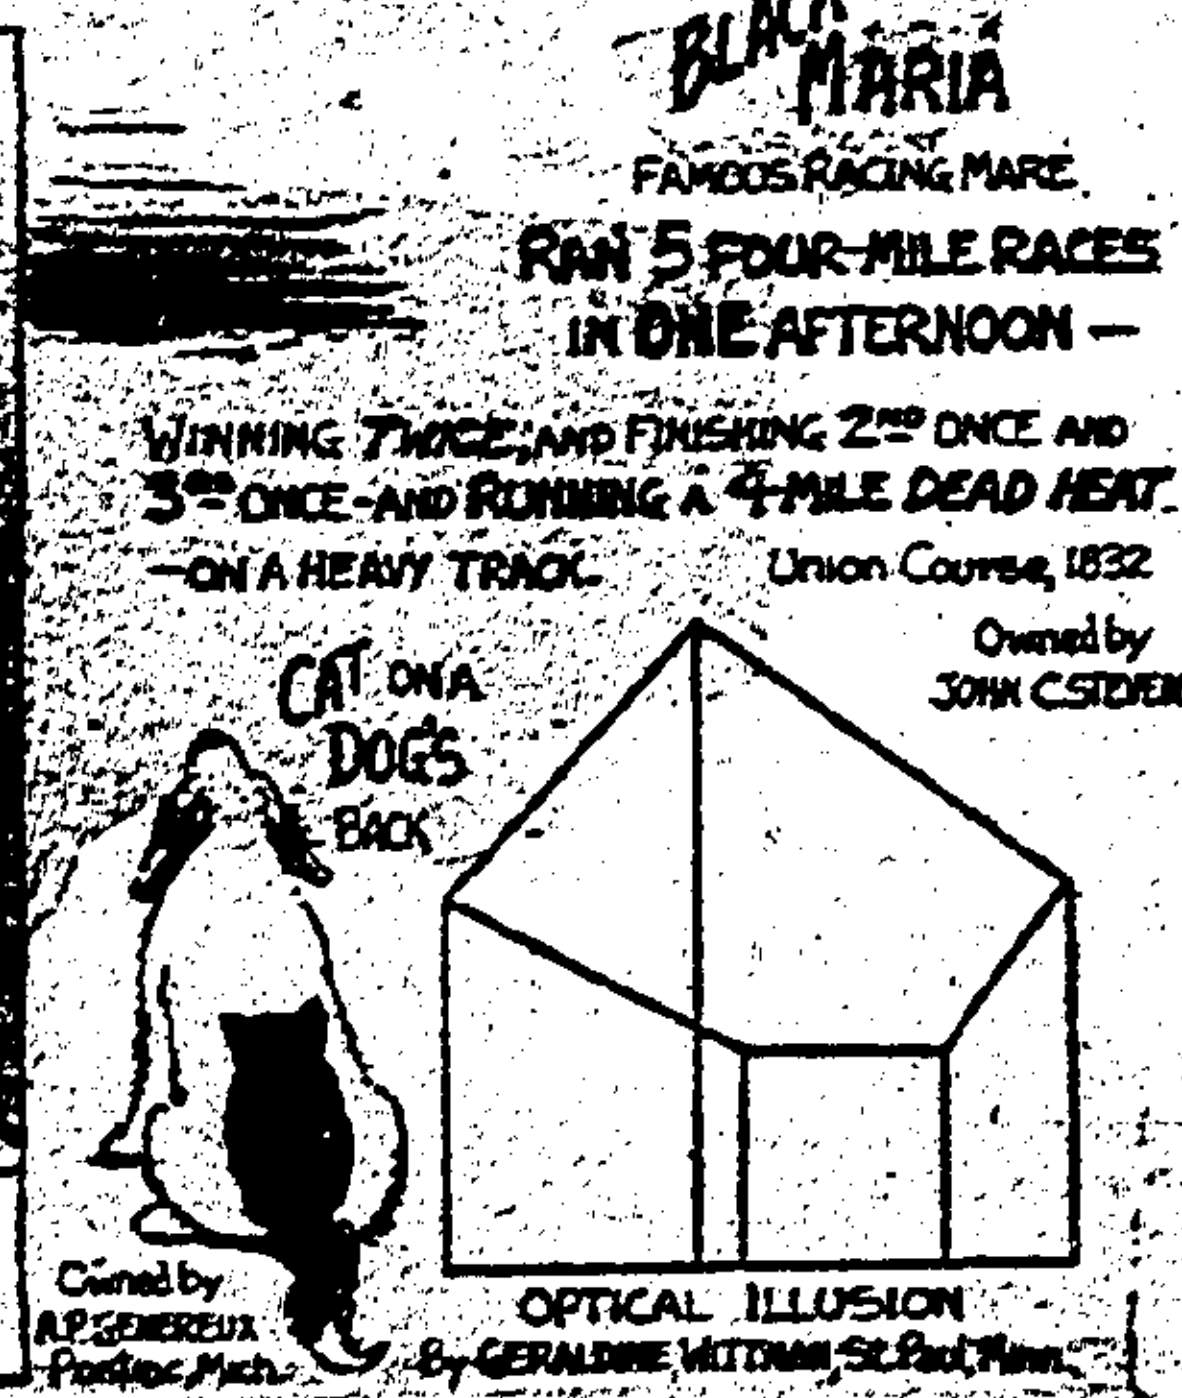

Labour Active

The Labour movement, as represented by the powerful trade unions, is, I believe, for the first time taking an active part in the Presidential election. Following the line taken in Britain 60 years ago, they are backing Roosevelt because they think he will give most benefits to their members. The discussions one hears and reads of reminded me continually of those days when Keir Hardie, Tom Mann and John Burns were storming the Trades Union Congress on behalf of independent Labour representation in Parliament.

I spoke to the conference of the American Socialist Party at Cleveland, and found it has not escaped trouble as a result of the industrial and financial crisis of the past few years. A split has taken place between what is called the Old Guard and the forward movement, led by Norman Thomas. The issues involved were not very clear. I was very much impressed with the sincerity of both sides, and am still hopeful that when the elections are over the divisions will be healed.

CANADIAN JUBILEE ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OF C.P.R. LINE

Coast-To-Coast Run By Special Train
GREAT ENTHUSIASM SHOWN EVERYWHERE

Lonely settlers along the Canadian Pacific Railway line turned out to the last man, woman and baby as the beflagged anniversary train passed through Western Ontario last month. The train was making a five-day journey from Montreal to the Pacific coast to commemorate the first Transcontinental trip 50 years ago.

Home-made flags were flown outside the wooden cabins perched on the rocky slopes above Lake Superior. Lumbermen from the uninhabited hinterland, fishermen in dinghies, and coalminers stood cheering on the quay at Jack Fish Bay.

More than 25,000 people were waiting at the twin lake ports of Port Arthur and Fort William. Shortly after 10 p.m. the train halted, and there were speeches and music and cheers from the stands erected alongside.

At 8.30 next morning the train entered Winnipeg, where the population surrounded the station. The Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, Mr. W. J. Tupper, was on the platform with members of the Provincial Cabinet, the Mayor, Mr. R. D. Waugh, and members of the Municipal Council, and a guard of honour of the scarlet-uniformed Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Old-timers who had helped to make the way for the first train were also there.

The pilgrims on their way to the Golden Jubilee celebrations at Vancouver were gathered in a little park opposite the station, where the "Lady Dufferin," the engine which drew the first train westward to Winnipeg, has been preserved as a lasting monument to the efforts of the railway-makers.

MARIE TEMPEST'S FILM DEBUT Paderewski Picture

Marie Tempest will be seen for the first time on the screen in "Moonlight Sonata," which Pall Mall Productions are making at Denham.

The star of the picture is Paderewski, aged 75. Miss Tempest, who also has an important role, is 71. The great pianist will appear as himself.

"Moonlight Sonata" is being directed by Lothar Mendes, the German, who made "The Four Feathers" and "Payment Deferred" in Hollywood. He is now managing director of Pall Mall Productions.

SINGAPORE'S FLEA "INDEX" IS 43

Bacteriological Work Of Health Dept.

Did you know that flea index for Singapore was 43 last year, and that among the decumanous rats who raided the larder two out of three were females? Probably not. But it is true, and the flea index is not so bad as it sounds. In scientific parlance it summarises the activities of bacteriologists in the Health Department who are working day and night to guard the city's health against disease.

Altogether 3,863 rats and 2,218 fleas, caught in various parts of the municipality were brought into the laboratories for dissection.

"Unfortunately for the rat, the classes were stopped because the girls were in terror."

FIRST ASCENT OF MONT BLANC IN 1786 RECALLED

Commemoration Fete At Chamonix

BIG MEETING OF CLIMBERS EXPECTED

Chamonix, France. — Mountain climbers of many countries are expected to participate this summer in the 150th anniversary celebrations here of the first ascent of Mont Blanc.

The first mountaineer to reach the summit of Mont Blanc is believed to have been Jacques Balmat, who scaled the Alpine peak in 1786. His statue here is to be the centre of the ceremonies commemorating the event.

Mont Blanc is one of France's greatest tourist attractions. It has been estimated recently that visitors who come to climb or simply to admire the snow-capped mountain spend annually more than 250,000,000 francs — nearly $17,000,000.

Not all of this, however, is expended in France, since Mont Blanc is in an international corner and may be approached from Switzerland and Italy as well as from France. It is estimated that last year 410,000 tourists visited the Mont Blanc region from the French side, 350,000 from the Swiss side and 275,000 from the Italian side — a total of more than 1,000,000. The base of the mountain is in all three countries, but the summit is in France.

Fred Evans, of Birkdale, the pilot of the aeroplane, said he took Hurst, his friend, for an evening fight. "We had been up for about half an hour," he continued, "when Hurst asked me for another spin. I had just come out of this spin when my engine stopped. "While I was trying to restart the engine I saw another aeroplane about to land. I was so absorbed in the danger of an air collision that I did not realise how fast my glide was. I stalled at 100ft and when we had crashed I found my friend dead."

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Supplies Of High-Grade Quartz Found In Uganda

A supply of quartz suitable for television and wireless use — the first to be found within the Empire — has been discovered in Uganda.

The discovery was made four months ago by the Uganda Government's geological survey. A series of exhaustive tests has now been completed.

The search for a supply in the Empire has been proceeding for a number of years. At present the principal sources of supply are Brazil and Madagascar. One of the largest British firms using quartz crystals has already

MOUNTAIN TRAGEDY

YOUNG BRITISH CLIMBER LOSES LIFE IN NORWAY

Fall Of About 1,000 Feet Follows Slip

BODY NOT RECOVERED

Despite an intensive search no trace has been found of Rupert Douglas Sweeney, the 23-year-old Cambridge graduate who fell 1,000 feet to his death while mountaineering in Norway last month.

Roped together, his two companions on the fatal climb, Mr. Nigel Beaumont-Thomas and Mr. A. Hamilton Robin, with two Norwegian guides, next day descended from the point at which he fell to the glacier below. They found no signs of the body, and it is believed it must have disappeared into a ravine.

The three men, all members of the Cambridge University Mountaineering Club, were climbing the Skagastoeistind, one of the highest mountains of the Jotenheim district, when the tragedy occurred. Mr. Hamilton Robin said:

Robin's Statement

"It was about seven in the evening when the accident took place, and it was still light. Sweeney went down into a gully to recover some goggles which had been dropped.

"When he had gone a short way he suddenly slipped and fell for about 1,000 feet, his body finally appearing to lodge on a ledge. We were not roped, as this was not thought to be necessary, and Sweeney was a very experienced climber.

"Beaumont-Thomas and myself searched for the body but without success, so we went back for help. Search parties went out immediately, but they did not recover the body, and it seems improbable that it will be found."

AIR PILOT ASKED TO SPIN

Friend Killed When They Crashed

SUDDEN RISK OF COLLISION

An inquest was held at Liverpool last month on Geo. Hurst, 33, motor-car electrician, of Southport, who was killed in an air crash at Liverpool airport on June 10.

Fred Evans, of Birkdale, the pilot of the aeroplane, said he took Hurst, his friend, for an evening fight.

"We had been up for about half an hour," he continued, "when Hurst asked me for another spin. I had just come out of this spin when my engine stopped.

QUEEN MARY AS PEACE SHIP

Sir E. Britten's Hope

Southampton.

Replying to the toast of his health at a luncheon given in his honour by local business men, Commodore Sir Edgar Britten, commander of the Queen Mary, said:—

"Such rivalry as the public interest in speed has imposed upon us is a friendly rivalry and a peaceful and sportsmanlike rivalry in the sole interest of building a firmer understanding between nations.

"Perhaps my greatest satisfaction in bringing the Queen Mary into this port lies beyond a pardonable pride in the ship herself and in her comfort and speed.

"It is a satisfaction which springs, I think, from the consciousness that the shipbuilder, the owners and the sailor are steadily charged with the responsibility of changing the character of the ocean itself from a barrier between peoples to a neighbourly highway."

WHEN LADY ASTOR SEES RED

Children Improperly Looked After

Speaking at the Conference of the Association of Education Committees at Jorquay, Lady Astor said:

"You cannot make men equal, but you must give children an equal chance.

"There is staggering waste in our educational system — neglecting children under five and letting them go into industry at 14.

"We are always fighting against a minority who, although educated themselves, seem to have a terror of others being educated."

She stressed the advantage of the open-air nursery school for children of from two to five.

"We have to abolish slum schools, and forty per cent of the schools of this country are slum schools."

"I would rather be dead in England than alive in some countries, but even in those countries they are looking after their children.

"When I think of the blindness of some people I see red."

SCENIC RAILWAY COLLISION

Eight People Injured At Southend Kursaal

Southend. — Eight people were hurt in a collision on a new switchback railway at Southend Kursaal recently. One car came to a standstill at the foot of an incline half way through the ride, and the following car ran into it. The occupants of the stationary car jumped to safety before the impact.

BUT HEAT PROVED WORST ENEMY

Several players on the Chinese side will be remembered with pleasure. The first of these was Lee Tin-sang, the speedy left-back, who played a cool game under pressure and prevented both Salim and Rahim from being dangerous. Chan Chen-wo was the best of the halves. The Indians had a better centre half than Chan "Ah-hui," who seemed to be somewhat lost at the speed of the Indians. Lee Wai-tong, the centre forward, made an admirable leader. He distributed the ball well and never missed an opportunity of shooting; he deserved at least one goal. Tam Kong-pak and Tay Kwee-liang were the other outstanding forwards, but on the whole the Chinese forwards had less of the ball than they expected because the Indian halves were so quick on the ball.

How The Game Went

The Chinese started well by forcing two corners from the second of which Tay Kwee-liang headed the ball over. The Chinese remained round the Indian goal and Suen Kam-shum shot over from about 30 yards. Up to this time the Chinese seemed to be having it all their own way, but presently Carr sent a fine pass out to Salim, who kicked across to Bhattacharjee. The latter was just getting ready to shoot when Mak Shui-hon cleared. There was great excitement when Carr passed to Abbas who cut in and shot into the side of the net.

Eleven minutes passed before the Indians forced their first corner and Carr headed over. A foul charge by Chan Chen-wo gave the Indians a free kick, and Noor Mahomed kicked straight into the goal for Pau Ka-ping to make an easy save. Soon after this Lee Wai-tong shot over from about 30 yards.

Attack Which Failed

Two brief attacks by the Chinese were repulsed and then the Indians made a raid which should have brought them a goal. The ball went from Bhattacharjee to Salim, across to Carr and then to Abbas. The last named should have shot, but spoilt the movement by hesitating and the ball came out to Noor Mahomed. There was a great gasp as India's centre half shot wide.

In the last minute of the first half the Chinese secured a goal. All the forwards except the outside right participated in the movement and Tam Kong-pak beat Banerjee with a quick shot that entered the corner of the net.

Five minutes after the resumption India were on level terms. A free kick on the right was taken by Noor Mahomed and the ball was on the way to the goal when Lee Tin-sang elbowed one of the forwards. The referee sounded the whistle and pointed to the penalty spot. Noor Mahomed was given the kick and beat the goalkeeper with a fast rising shot.

Inches Too High

The Chinese seemed disheartened for a while, but soon fell into their stride again. Lee Wai-tong being prevented from scoring at the expense of a corner. Yeung Shui-yick then dropped the ball into goal and Banerjee, running out, fisted the ball away and was still out of his charge when Lee Wai-tong neatly punted the ball towards goal, unfortunately a few inches too high. Then Lee Wai-tong sent in a shot that had the speed of a bullet, and Banerjee made the first of his two really great saves.

The second was made from the same player. China were given a free kick near the edge of the penalty area and the Indian players formed a barrier ten yards away. Lee Wai-tong's shot whizzed past their heads and would have beaten a less alert goalkeeper than

ALLEGED UNETHICAL CONDUCT

CHARGE AGAINST LOCAL SOLICITOR

HEARING BEFORE FULL COURT

Before a sitting of the Full Court this morning, presided over by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, who was supported by the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden, a motion to strike from the Rolls of the Court a solicitor was made by Mr. H. G. Sheldon, who appeared on behalf of the Incorporated Law Society of Hong Kong.

Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Jr., appeared for the respondent, assisted by Mr. P. M. Hodgson. Before the hearing of the case proceeded, His Lordship the Chief Justice requested the Press to refrain from mentioning the name of the respondent or the legal firm or firms connected with him, until such time as the Court ordered otherwise.

The motion arose out of several alleged breaches of the Legal Practitioners' Ordinance, 1871, and was the result of a special finding of a Sub-Committee of the Incorporated Law Society of Hong Kong.

The charges against the respondent are:—

1. That respondent has been guilty of an offence against the provisions of Section 32 of the Solicitors Act, 1843, which section was extended to this Colony by Section 51 of the Legal Practitioners Ordinance, 1871, in that he, between the February 5, 1925 and March, 1928, whilst carrying on business as a solicitor in this Colony, and between April, 1928, and the end of March, 1929, wilfully and knowingly permitted or suffered the firm's name to be made use of in certain actions or suits instituted in the Supreme Court of Hong Kong and in matters of bankruptcy upon the account or for profits of persons not duly qualified to act as an attorney or solicitor.

2. That the said respondent has been guilty of disgraceful and dishonourable conduct as a solicitor in that he, being a solicitor, was a party to and executed the following written agreements with persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, namely:—

(a) Agreement dated February 5, 1925, between the respondent, of the one part, and two other people, of the other part, by which agreement, the respondent agreed in consideration of the sum of $30,000 paid to him by the other two people to share the profits of his business of a solicitor, and to carry on business and the practice of a solicitor for a period of 15 years for the common interest of all parties to the said agreement, and that the said agreement in effect is a partnership agreement between respondent and persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors; alternatively, that the said agreement gives control of the business and practice of the respondent and its management to persons not duly qualified as aforesaid as therein mentioned or their successors.

(b) Two agreements dated respectively the May 13 and 15, 1926, made between the respondent, of the one part, and two other persons, of the other part, by which agreements and joint effect thereof the respondent binds himself so long as he shall practice as a solicitor in Hong Kong to retain the services of the two persons and gives them authority to agree the amount of costs payable in respect of all work introduced by one of the two persons.

(c) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(d) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(e) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(f) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(g) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(h) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(i) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(j) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(k) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

(l) An agreement made in or about the month of August, 1926, between the respondent, of the one part, and certain persons not duly qualified to act as attorneys or solicitors, of the other part, in which agreement the terms and conditions contained in the said agreement of February 5, 1925, are repeated.

Slightly reminiscent of childhood's dainty pinafores is the shirred organdie yoke on this crepe dress of soft grey worn by Anne Shirley, the screen starlet. The only note of colour is the cluster of artificial fruit which fastens the pointed collar.

The Men competitors left five minutes later and were at once spread-eagled over a wide area, the many sampans keeping a close watch lest any swimmers got into difficulties.

A Clever Move

Mak Wai-ming and Lionel Roza-Pereira, the leaders, and Pte. Lovack were all swimming on a line and separated by several hundred yards. Mak Wai-ming made for the Commercial Press with the intention of swimming into the finishing line with the current, and, although this proved the long way at the start, it paid in the end. Roza-Pereira and Lovack, who made for Lyemum, being carried past their objective on turning sharp right for home.

All three men finished strongly. Mak Wai-ming looking very fresh after a burst of speed when about 200 yards from home. The winner's path was not exactly "rosy," however, and 200 yards from the finishing line he had the misfortune to swim into a big jelly fish which, however, did him little harm.

The organisation was in perfect order any everything was carried through with a "zip." Among the interested spectators were Mr. Aw Boon Haw and his family. The prizes will be distributed at the Chinese Bathing Club's third monthly swimming gala, which will be held next Wednesday night, a feature of the night fete being the 200 Metres Relay open to teams of four ladies from any Club in the Colony.

Detailed results were:—

MEN AND MOTIVES IN AMERICA

Party Being Formed
Meantime, efforts are being made to form a Labour Party on our lines, to be known as the Farmer Labour Party, which would include the Socialist Party. At present this is only being discussed between trade unionists, Socialists, and farmers. It will get no farther, I expect, till after the Presidential election this October.

One thing I miss here is women's organisations. There are no Women's Co-operative Guilds, Labour, Liberal, or even Conservative organisations. The wives of the manual workers are not yet organised at all except in a few trade union guilds, and these are non-political.

The same outcry against the President's expenditure is raised here as at home. It is argued, just as people argued about "Populism" that in the forthcoming election Mr. Roosevelt will receive support because he has, of course with the consent of Congress, poured out public money like water, and the recipients will vote for him in the hope of further favours to come. Readers will know my view on these matters. Here it is certain that those at the head of affairs, whether Democrats or Republicans, are convinced that the steps taken by the present Government have for the time being staved off revolution.

Relief Will Stay

No Government which may be elected in November will dare rescind the relief measures that exist for helping the unemployed, or abandon the schemes for providing pensions and assistance for widows, orphans, and aged persons.

The American views on the League of Nations and peace are quite distinct and definite. There is a strong opposition among all sections of the people against war of any kind, and a fierce determination not to join any League of Nations such as exists at present.

The slogan here in America is: "Help to keep the United States out of war." The vast mass of people want peace and if they are for any reason driven to war it will be against their will.

Pacifist Minority

At present those who stand for out-and-out pacifism are but a minority. This minority will grow in strength and vigour and bring the United States to the side of any nation which will fairly and squarely face the economic and racial problems involved in war and preparation for war.

We who are pacifists in Europe may be thankful that in America a large minority of Christian clergy of all denomination will be found lined up against any war. The Methodist conference at Columbus, which I addressed, has come out quite definitely on this side of the fence. The Unitarian Church, which drove out of its pulpits some dozen or more ministers who refused to support the last war, has now publicly registered its sorrow and repentance for such a sinful act. Young Jewish Rabbis, many of whom I met and spoke with from the same platform, have left their districts to join in the Emergency Peace Campaign. I heard a Roman Catholic layman

Lavish Parties At West-End Hotels

ARRESTED WITH 2D.

Peter Martin Jenkins, aged 19, independent, of Nottingham-place, W., was bound over by Mr. Dummett at Bow-street last month for incurring a debt of £10 by fraud at the Cafe de Paris, Coventry-street, W.

He pleaded guilty and asked for four other cases to be taken into consideration. The magistrate said that Jenkins had also incurred a debt of £13 for food and drink at the Grosvenor House Hotel, Park Lane, and debts at other fashionable places in the West End. When arrested he had 2d in his possession.

Bad Company

Mr. L. Ricketts, defending, said that Jenkins' father, at one time an exceedingly wealthy man, became involved in a serious financial loss and died last year. Jenkins had been brought up in luxury.

Last year he became a half-commission man on the Stock Exchange and drifted into bad company. Under the delusion that his father's estate was larger than it was, he entertained on a lavish scale.

"He has been brought up in an extravagant way and probably could not give up his old mode of life," said the magistrate.

make one of the most powerful speeches against war and in support of absolute pacifism, and at the end he spoke eloquently and forcibly on behalf of a League of Nations newly constituted for the purpose of removing the causes of war.

New World Conference

There is growing support for the proposal that a new world conference should be called. Many would like President Roosevelt and the British Government to do this. There is not the slightest support for Mr. Baldwin's nebulous appeal that the United States should join the present League or any future League founded on collective security through force and military sanctions.

The belief most often expressed to me was that America fought to save British Imperialism. They want some evidences of real British contributions towards peace.

They think, and I think with them, that we must be prepared to assist in forming a new League of Nations with war outlawed. We must be prepared to give up the right to go to war when it seems to suit us and join in creating an international organisation for peace whose first and continuous duty it must be to set up machinery that will enable world resources to be shared, markets to be pooled, and the occupation of unoccupied territories.

Everybody knows this is a terribly difficult business; but it is no more difficult or costly than preparing for a bloody, useless war.

WHAT READERS WANT TO KNOW

Some "Teasers" For Public Libraries

PROBLEM IN SKULL MEASUREMENT

Margate.
How should the cephalic index be measured? What is the total number of families in Great Britain? What firm built the first swimming bath with artificial waves?

These questions were given by Mr. E. R. J. Hawkins, of the Croydon public libraries, at the annual conference of the Library Association at Margate last month. He was quoting examples of information asked for by public library readers and difficult to obtain from books.

A professor of University College, London, answered the question about the cephalic index, which is a number indicating the ratio of the transverse to the longitudinal diameter of the skull.

In reply to the second question estimated figures for Scotland were obtained from the Scottish Office, since such statistics, although available for England and Wales, are not compiled for Scotland. The third question was promptly answered by the Institution of Water Engineers.

Some Points

Following are points from other papers read at the conference: Mr. L. White, Borough Librarian, Sutton Coldfield:—"Perhaps the greatest criticism of modern librarianship is the complacency with which librarians accept the issue of dirty books—dirty in the physical sense. The condition of the stocks of the majority of our libraries is a disgrace to the profession."

Mr. H. Wilson, Senior Assistant, Leyton public libraries:—"Ninety-eight per cent. of public library service to the reader is a pure gamble on the reader's part. It would be an interesting calculation to find the odds on one reader out of 30,000 securing the odd book at the time he wanted it out of a stock of 90,000 and a daily circulation of 3,200."

Mr. S. P. T. Jacks, Senior Assistant, Hornsey public libraries:—"At the Hornsey Central Library Office replies to quarto type-written letters—that is, 90 per cent. of correspondence—are copied by carbon on the reverse side of the original letter, instead of on a separate sheet. The answer and the letter which evoked it are always permanently attached to one another; future reference is facilitated; considerable space is saved in the vertical file."

SIR H. AUSTIN CONGRATULATED

Motoring Pioneer's
Happy Memories

HIS CHOICE OF TITLE

Sir Herbert Austin, on whom the King has conferred a barony in the Birthday Honours, vainly tried to do some work the following days. He had his usual daily quota of meetings and conferences, but alas, he just couldn't get down to work.

There were about 18,000 people at the Austin works near Birmingham that day, and the great ambition of every man Jack of them was to congratulate "the Gov'nor." The telephone never stopped ringing, and messages of congratulation poured in by telegram and cable.

Still, when my turn came, writes a special correspondent, he admitted cheerfully enough that "it was all very pleasant."

Sir Herbert does not wish to lose his identity by taking as his title some place-name alone. Subject to Royal approval, he will be known as Lord Austin, and the geographical designation of the barony will probably be the name of his works.

There he has made a fortune for himself and cars for the million and the toast, gentlemen, is Lord Austin of Longbridge.

A Trip To Australia

Born at Great Missenden, Bucks, 60 years ago, Sir Herbert went to Australia when he was 17.

"An uncle came over here and painted such glowing pictures of streets running with gold that I just had to go back with him and make 'fortune,' he told me. 'I didn't find it. Alas, gold doesn't grow on trees ready for the picking, in Australia or anywhere else.'"

"I suppose it's true that I struck gold, or partly so, but I've worked hard for what I've got."

Sir Herbert came back from Australia, having learnt his trade as an engineer, and began to manufacture sheep-shearing machinery. Before long, however, he was bitten with this new-fangled notion of horseless carriages. Wolseley was the name of the sheep-shearing company. It became the name of the first first car he made. Such a strange contraption it was. He showed it at the Crystal Palace in 1895.

Early Motoring

"Those were the days! What a lot of fun we used to get out of motoring then. I've still got the silver medal for the 1,000 miles trial, London to Edinburgh. It was in 1900—and what a run!

"Then I remember going on the Paris-Vienna run. We broke a crankshaft before starting, and repaired the thing by the roadside. Then, late as we were, we set off in a wild dash to catch up the others who were 24 hours ahead.

"The crankshaft went again on the Arberg Pass, and ended all our hopes.

"All my life my work has been my hobby, as even now I'm not at all out of sorts with it. I do honestly enjoy working. I know I'm building something which brings pleasure and enjoyment to others.

"My job is strictly competitive. There is no time for rusting.

His Wife's Job

"Lady Austin? Why, she's a very modest little woman, you know. Naturally she is pleased for my sake, and for the children, but this won't make any difference to our home life. Her job has always been looking after me, and I owe

MAN'S "JEKYLL AND HYDE" ROLES

AMAZING STORY FROM REAL LIFE

ORIGINATOR OF FIRST COUNTRY
MANSION BANDIT-GANG

Many titles were given to Edward George Tucker, who has just died in Maidstone Prison. When he was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment at London Sessions in November, 1933, he was "the king of receivers."

When his dual life of hard-working compositor and organiser of burglaries was revealed he naturally became "the Jekyll and Hyde of South-East London."

But other titles had been given him before he was caught. He was "the chief" to scores of house-breakers, and he was "the gentleman" to many humble folk in Southwark, for he had a kind heart when people in need appealed to him.

"Actually he was the man who first organised automobile raids on country houses. He supplied the cars, and hired them out to expert burglars.

All he asked was that he should have the first pick of all stolen goods.

If his henchmen tried to "double-cross" him, he became the virtuous citizen, and quietly told the police. That is why Scotland Yard officers were so surprised when they tracked down the proceeds of many robberies to his inoffensive little house in Water-road, S.E.

The term of imprisonment which death interrupted was his first. He had not run foul of the police before. He had been clever. In fact, he had been too clever.

NEW CODE IN GERMANY

Duels To Be Made
Legal

CHOICE OF WEAPONS FOR CIVILIANS

The special commission which, under the chairmanship of Dr. Guertner, the Minister of Justice, is engaged in drawing up a new German legal code in accordance with Nazi principles has now definitely decided to legalise duelling.

The commission arrived at the conclusion that duelling was in harmony with the Nazi conception of honour. They based their decision on the fact that duels are already permitted in the ranks of the fighting forces, the Storm Troops and the Nazi guards, under special orders issued during the last two and a-half years.

The law will leave the choice of weapons open to the duellists. Officers are permitted to use only pistols, but the "man in the street" will be allowed the proverbial choice of swords or pistols.

100,000 BASEMENT DWELLERS

Mr. Lewis Slikin, M.P., chairman of the L.C.C. Housing and Public Health Committee, stated when opening a Town Planning Conference at County Hall that there were nearly 100,000 people living in underground and unhealthy basements in London.

her more than I can say."

Sir Herbert started making Austin motor-cars in 1905. His output was 147 in the first year. Now he makes 60,000 cars a year.

His generosity is proverbial, his latest benefaction being the princely gift of £250,000 to the Cavendish Laboratory, Cambridge.

Ex-Officers "Phantom" £250,000 Expectations

A former naval officer who at a personal expenditure of himself, previous hearing declared that he had an expectation of £250,000 under his father's will when he reached a certain age, appeared for his resumed examination at St. Albans Bankruptcy Court last month.

He was Henry Andrew Stenhouse Anderson, aged 49, described as a dealer in real estate, of the Woodlands, Stanmore Hill, Great Stanmore, who was questioned by the Official Receiver (Mr. J. I. Poland) concerning his personal expenditure.

He agreed that household and for clothing.

The woman with whom he lived screamed at him when he was arrested: "I told you you were mad. I said all along you would be caught sooner or later. It is your cursed greed."

His life was an adventure right through. He was born in Co. Wicklow, in Ireland. His widow and three grown-up children are still in Ireland.

Went To U.S.

In 1890 he went to Dublin and became apprenticed to the printing trade.

He made good at it, and then at the age of 18 went to New York. Three years later he was back at his old job as compositor in Dublin.

It was while he was working there that he married a Dublin girl. They were both 25 at the time.

He first came to London in 1919 and lived in various parts of the south-east, mostly in Southwark.

It was in 1923, the police believe, that he first decided to help himself to other people's property. He got in touch with known crooks and invited them to work for him.

They refused at the beginning, but they did take to him the "stuff" they stole. He became quite an "influential" receiver of stolen goods.

His "Scouts"

All the time he let it be known that he was a compositor and that he was chiefly on night work. Actually he worked during the day time, earning an average of £8 10s. a week.

Gradually he developed his organisation. In 1928 he bought two cars which he hired out to his men. The cars were replaced by faster ones in 1931.

He had men to "scout" around houses in outlying counties. When the movements of the occupants and servants were known, he would send his men to "do the job."

He was generous to his staff, and they were loyal to him. He was only "double crossed" on three occasions, and then he told the police.

Every piece of silver he received was treated with an emery wheel to remove identifiable marks. Useless silver he turned over to coiners who were in alliance with his "racket."

A fair proportion of his gains went to Ireland; he saw to it that his wife and family were not in need.

Fortune Of £10,000

His wealth grew steadily. At one time he had as much as £10,000 in various banks (and in various names) in London.

Edward George Tucker took every precaution to prevent stolen property being found in his house. He fitted up dummy ceilings and his tables had false bottoms. When the police carried out their search it took them three weeks to recover everything.

Tucker invested much of his money in buying up a cafe and a dairy in Southwark to provide him with a regular income.

His fame became such in the London underworld that scores of criminals automatically went to him when they wanted jemies or revolvers.

And so confident were his men when he was waiting trial that he would "get away with it" that they borrowed his cars to raid orchards in Kent. Now their "chief" is dead and they are scattered.

CHANNEL BUOYS

WHAT would modern navigation do without the channel buoys—those floating markers that keep ships off the shoals? In a very real sense, the advertisements in this paper are channel buoys, placed for your protection—for the safeguarding of the family expenditures.

These advertisements are the signed statements of reputable firms who seek your patronage on the single basis of giving value for every dollar spent. They are honest statements, the only kind an advertiser can use and remain an advertiser.

People who get the most for their dollar in the market-places are those who keep an eye on the channel buoys. Day by day, they follow the advertisements to learn what and where to buy to the best advantage. Make this a habit. Study the advertisements, in the interest of shrewder buying.

The advertisers in this paper have charted the channels of buying for you. Keep to the course.

CHINA YEAR BOOK

1935 EDITION

The 25 Chapters of the 17th issue of the CHINA YEAR BOOK, edited by H. G. W. Woodhead, C.B.E., have as usual been revised or rewritten with the assistance of many experts, Chinese and foreign, and every effort has been made to bring information and statistics up to date.

The Chapter on the Kuomintang covers the political history of China in 1934. The Chapter on the Chinese Government contains the Text of the Provisional Constitution, the Organic Law, and the Draft of the Permanent Constitution.

The Chapter on International Issues gives the text of the Agreement and Exchange of Notes of the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway, besides the latest documents relating to Sino-Japanese issues.

China's Communications—Railways, Roads, Post Office, Telegraphs, Wireless, Telephones and Aviation—are very fully dealt with.

Father D'Elia, in the Chapter on Religions, contributes an interesting Chronological Review of Catholic Missions in China.

Mr. E. Kamm is again responsible for the Chapter on Currency and Banking, and the Loan Tables.

A new feature is a Chapter on China's Modern Industries.

BRITAIN'S SOCCER TEAM FOR BERLIN22 Players Selected
For OlympiadMEETING CHINA IN FIRST ROUND OF TOURNAMENT.

The following 22 players have been selected to represent Britain in the soccer tournament at the Berlin Games:

H. C. H. Hill (Sheffield University) and L. T. Huddle (Casuals), goal; G. G. Holmes (Hford), G. Roylance (Yorkshire Amateurs), backs; S. Eastham (The Army), B. Joy (Casuals), T. H. Leek (Moor Green), J. Sutcliffe (Corinthians), half-backs; E. D. R. Shearer (Corinthians), M. Edleston (Fulham), B. C. Clements (Casuals), L. C. Finch (Barnet), F. Riley (Casuals), forwards.

J. Gardiner, C. Brown, J. Crawford, J. M. Kyle, and J. Dodds (All Queen's Park Rangers, Scotland); R. P. Fulton and J. Gibbs (Ireland); and J. Peart and I. Fielding (Wales).

One or two of the players seem rather inexperienced for this class of football. Mr. C. Wreford Brown, who is in charge of the party, will no doubt choose his team according to the strength of the opposition.

FOUR GROUPS
The various countries will be divided into four groups, and the winners on points will compete in the semi-finals. A numerical strength of 22 was decided upon in order to rest certain players.

Before the War Great Britain carried all before them in this Olympiad, but after a defeat in the First Round by Norway at Antwerp in 1921 it was decided to withdraw from the competition on the "broken time" question.

It will be interesting to see what sort of a show the British team put up against China in the First Round.

WELL-KNOWN TENNIS PLAYER PASSESJ. Tavares Victim Of Scarlet FeverNEWS RECEIVED FROM SHANGHAI

News has been received in the Colony of the death of Joe Tavares, the well-known local tennis player, in Shanghai on July 19 from scarlet fever.

Tavares had previously been playing a lot of tennis in Shanghai with Raoul Canavarro, the ex-Interporter and present tennis instructor in the northern metropolis.

It will be recalled that Tavares, after gaining valuable experience in the All-Comers' tournament in Manila, very nearly caused a major sensation in this year's Colony Singles Championship when pitted against Sirdar Rumsch, the reigning champion, in the First Round. There were many present at that match who believed that he could have beaten Rumsch, after taking the first set, had he shown more concentration. In the Open Doubles he and M. Drysdale reached the Third Round before being beaten by E. C. Fincher and W. C. Hung.

DAVIS CUPAustralian Doubles
Pair Favoured

To-day Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist, 1935 Australian Wimbledon doubles champions, should beat Pat Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey, present Wimbledon titlists, in the Challenge Round of the Davis Cup competition to make the score 2-1 in favour of the holders, Great Britain.

To-morrow both Fred Perry and H. W. "Bunny" Austin should beat Crawford and Quist respectively to give Britain a 4-1 triumph and the trophy for the fourth year in succession.

Saturday's scores in the two opening singles matches were as follows:

H. W. Austin (Britain) beat J. H. Crawford 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Sold His Machines

"Over And Over Again"

An alleged fraudulent business in cigarette machines was described last month at Bournemouth Quarter Sessions.

Clifford Charles Brickell, aged 32, a canvasser, of Saws-avenue, Bournemouth, was charged with obtaining by false pretences two sums of £500 and one of £300 from three different men.

Mr. J. Scott Henderson, prosecuting, said the present charges were only a selection. During 1933 and 1934, he alleged, Brickell obtained over £6,000 from 12 people.

Brickell, Mr. Henderson continued, started a business of supplying machines to occupiers of houses and other premises and stocking them with cigarettes. He had practically no capital, and borrowed money from people willing to invest in his business.

He also used to sell machines to people who let them on hire to him for a weekly rental. Soon Brickell started selling the same machines over and over again, while he had purported to sell 2,848 machines, the total he had bought was at most about 1,800.

The hearing was adjourned.
